Diverging Low Row

Biomechanically Sound

The proprietary, ergonomic design of the slip-resistant handles optimizes grip with less forearm fatigue, while also allowing the exerciser to move their hand position freely.

Designed to Go the Distance

The upholstered pad of the Resolute Diverging Low Row underwent 1.2 million cycles of testing to ensure that this machine will be a durable workhorse for any facility. All the pivot and adjustment points are designed for quiet operation for years to come.

Focused on the Experience

The independent moving arms, large foot plate, and extended seat pad provide the exerciser with a variety of engaging movement possibilities that keep the workout fresh and interesting. With no adjustments other than weight selection, the Diverging Low Row lets exercisers get on and go.
