GBR0712

Developed in partnership with Glutebuilder and exclusively available from Precor, the Glutebuilder line is a full range of products dedicated to targeting the glutes, legs, and hip muscles. The precision biomechanics create an exact motion path with smooth, constant resistance ensuring effective and efficient workouts. The multiple adjustment points allow exercisers to find the perfect fit and range of motion for each exercise.

The Glutebuilder Bench provides a dedicated lifting platform for glute, legs, legs, and core exercises with an adjustable back pad and non-slip footplate to help exercisers remain stable. The optional Squat Rack Integration further expands workout possibilities for your exercisers, making it an ideal choice for facilities with limited space.

GBR0712

Product Features

MULTIPLE EXERCISES, ONE MACHINE

Nine adjustable back pad positions and eight resistance band pegs expands the range of exercises targeting the glutes, legs, core, and upper body.

MAXIMIZE THE WORKOUT SPACE

The optional Squat Rack Integration enhances training variety in a compact space, featuring dual chin-up/pull-up handles and a heavy-duty, fully welded frame that provides durability and stability for a wide range of exercises. The high-impact polyurethane covers and J-hook inserts protect wear surfaces from metal-on-metal contact, preserving the paint finish of the rack.

FOCUS ON CONFIDENCE

The non-slip footplate ensures that exercisers maintain a stable footing throughout the exercise.

BUILT-IN-STORAGE

The integrated vertical barbell storage and weight horns accommodate Olympic and bumper-style plates, providing quick and easy access to plates to keep the training area tidy.
